

GEN. KUROPATKIN

Issues a Patriotic Address to his troops

ENDEAVORS TO INSPIRE COURAGE

The Czar will send Thousands of Russian Soldiers to assist the troops at the Front

KUROPATKIN PRAISES HIS MEN.

London, October 10th.—Gen. Kuropatkin has issued a long and very patriotic address to the troops in which he sums up the proceedings for the last seven months. He says all the reverses have been due to his not being numerically strong enough to draw the Japanese.

In referring to the retreat Kuropatkin says he ordered it with a heavy heart, but with unshaken confidence that it was necessary to gain complete victory over the enemy when the time came. "You left positions you had defended covered with piles of the enemy's dead and without allowing yourselves to be disturbed by the foe and in full preparation for fresh fight. After five days fighting at Liao Yang you retired to new positions prepared for you. Attacked by Kuropatki you marched through almost impassable mud fighting throughout the day and extricating the gencs with your hands at night and returned to Mukden without abandoning a single gun. Now the Emperor has assigned forces enough to assure victory. The inflexible wish of the Emperor is that the foe must be vanquished and if regiments sent out now are not sufficient fresh troops will come. Heretofore the enemy has succeeded by having force enough to surround us and to choose time to attack. Now the moment to move forward has arrived and now we will compel the Japanese to do our will."

RUSSIANS REPORT JAP DEFEAT.

St. Petersburg, October 10th.—The announcement of Kuropatkin was followed by an advance movement and the defeat of the Japanese at a skirmish at Bentziputza. The Japanese were driven back because they neglected to fortify the hill. The two armies are in the anomalous position of threatening each other's base of supplies.

TROOPS ENTHUSIASTIC.

Mukden, October 10th.—The announcement of the forward movement was received with the greatest enthusiasm by the troops.

The accident was caused by a coal train breaking in two. Engineer Coleman went to the rescue and also lost his life.

The Russian police are confident that they can trace the assassinations of government officials from 1891 to the recent murder of Von Pleve to a band of revolutionists now located in Switzerland.

ONTARIO DELEGATES IN THIS DISTRICT

A party of Ontario land seekers have just returned from a trip to the White Whale Lake district to which they were conducted by E. H. Reid, government land guide. The party consisted of B. Brisco, of Napanee, J. A. Graham, of Orbridge, and Mont. B. Werden, and David Bigg, of Pictou, Ontario. These four men are acting as delegates from their particular districts, and are reporting on the West as they find it for their neighbors. Mr. Graham is an electrical engineer, Mr. Bigg a farmer. Mr. Brisco a hotel keeper, and Mr. Werden a fruit farmer of Prince Edward county.

In spite of encountering very disagreeable weather they were highly pleased with what they saw. One night was spent at Woolard's ranch and the delegates were surprised at the exceptionally heavy yields of grain and fine vegetables. The party took away with them potatoes weighing two pounds. Cattle in this district are in fine shape and the country is certainly most favorable for grazing purposes. Some of the hills are literally clothed with pea vine and vetches. Some samples of these have been taken to Edmonton and are to be seen at the Immigration Hall. The crops in the White Whale Lake district are excellent and the settlers are well satisfied. No doubt farming operations in this district will be carried on on a much larger scale next year.

White Whale Lake is a fine body of water about fifteen miles long and four or five miles wide. It is deep and has cool clear water, a rock and sand bottom, and all kinds of fish are to be found, whitefish being most plentiful. Fishing forms a profitable occupation for many of the settlers who have secured places near the lake. The chief mode of fishing is by net, a four and a half to five and a half inch mesh being generally used for whitefish; while the other varieties of fish are often trolled for with a line and spoon bait attached.

West of the lake are extensive deposits of coal and lime.

HOW TIMES HAVE CHANGED

In 1890 the total assessed value of property in the town of Edmonton was $914,761 and the highest assessed value of property was $33 per front foot.

In 1904 the total assessed value of property in Edmonton was $3,958,000 and the highest assessed value of property was $200 per front foot.

In 1896 farm lands in the vicinity of Edmonton had a nominal value of $3 an acre.

In 1904 they have a selling value of $10 to $20 an acre.

In 1896 we had stagnation.

In 1904 we have progress!

Stagnation existed in the west under a condition of railway and land monopoly, high tariff and corrupt administration.

Progress exists under a condition of lower railway rates, moderate tariff, the land for the people, an active immigration policy, the assurance of railway competition and clean and capable administration.

The North-West did not progress under a policy of restriction and grab.

The North-West has progressed under a policy of reasonable consideration and fair play.

The North-West policy of the government in power in 1896 was to help the east by fleecing the west.

The policy of the government now in power is to help the east by promoting the growth and prosperity of the west.

In 1896 the number of homesteads taken in the west was 1,857.

In 1903 the number taken was 32,682.

In 1896 the total trade of Canada was 235 million dollars.

In 1903 the total trade of Canada was 470 million dollars.

Immediately after its accession to power the intolerable railway conditions in the west caused the attention of the government.

By the arrangement for the construction of the Crow's Nest pass railway an important section of Alberta was given railway communication, an immense coal industry was established and new markets were opened to the farmers of the west. This arrangement involved the expenditure of some four million dollars raised on the credit of the people of Canada partly as a bonus to this western railway and partly to secure a reduction in the freight rates both outgoing and incoming to be paid by the people of the west. These reductions were 3¢ per 100 pounds on grain going out and from 10 to 33¢ per cent on merchandise coming in. By this arrangement a measure of relief was immediately secured.

The readjustment of the tariff, made about the same time, reduced the taxes paid on cottons and woolens by from ten to 33¢ per cent and on the greater number of other articles of general use a considerable reduction was made, proportionately increasing the purchasing power of the people.

In northern Alberta the creamery industry, which had hitherto proven a failure was taken up by the government and throughout the dairy sections was made a magnificent success, to the very great improvement of the condition of the people immediately concerned.

Having reformed the administration of the lands and improved the homestead regulations in the interests of the settler, an aggressive immigration campaign was entered upon, involving the expenditure of hundreds of thousands of dollars a year, which coupled with the improved conditions, has resulted in increasing population, production and prosperity to the present satisfactory degree. The amount voted by parliament at the recent session for expenditure on immigration work for the current year was $672,200, as compared with $120,199 in 1896.

Having succeeded in securing population and production, thereby prosperity, the next step was to again deal with railroad conditions. In 1897 it was necessary to deal with a condition of monopoly and to secure such terms as might be possible. In 1903 the country had advanced sufficiently not only to justify but to demand the breaking of that monopoly. Nothing short of that could place the Northwest on an equal footing with its agricultural competitors in the markets of the world.

The Saskatchewan valley first claimed attention, and the Canadian Northern Railway was chartered and aided by a bonus of $3,200 a mile to build from the Manitoba boundary to Edmonton. This aid was not sufficient to enable the company to build. The government then withdrew the cash bonus and substituted a guarantee of the company's bonds to the amount of $13,000 a mile for the 650 miles from the Manitoba border to Edmonton. Besides a branch to Prince Albert. Under that guarantee the Canadian Northern is being built. The steel is laid nearly to the South Saskatchewan, and the graders are at work within one hundred miles of Edmonton. The steel will be in Edmonton in time to take out next season's crop. This will give accommodation to thousands of settlers already along its line and will make possible the settlement and prosperity of hundreds of thousands of others in country as yet uninhabited. The country pays not a cent of cash and not an acre of land to build this road and adds a first mortgage upon it as security for its guarantee.

The Canadian Northern is a most valuable colonization road, and gives a measure of competition to the West as far as it extends; but dependent as it is upon the C. P. R. for its access to eastern Canada and the Atlantic ports during five months of the year it is not, and cannot be an effective competitor to that road. A railroad which cannot compete on equal terms with the C. P. R. cannot compete with it for long. If the North-West is to have competition it must be by means of a company as well established and as far reaching as the C. P. R. itself. Such a company is the Grand Trunk.

At the time when the Canadian Northern had shown its inability to build to Edmonton for the cash bonus of $3,200 a mile, and it was doubtful if we were going to have competition after all, the government entered into negotiations with the Grand Trunk company. The result is the arrangement which is the subject of the present appeal to the electors, whereby a new and thoroughly national transcontinental railway is secured on terms more favorable to the tax payer and the freight payer than in the case of any other railway in Canada or on the continent.

The railway will be three thousand miles in length. The eastern half, from the Red River to the Atlantic, will be built and owned by the government. The Grand Trunk will be built and owned by the government. The Grand Trunk

COLLECTING BACK TAXES

From Individuals which the C. P. R. refused to pay

Bulletin Special Dispatch.

Regina, October 8.—An interesting case was discussed at the Legislature this morning when the member for Moccasin, Mr. Smith, brought to the attention of the government the endeavor to collect from private persons the back taxes which the C. P. R. had refused to pay and which had been accumulating on the land which belonged to the company. Mr. Haultain said it was being done to assist in a test case now before the Courts. If the government won the company would have to pay the back taxes, while if they lost the assessment was illegal.

Pacific will operate the whole road under government control as to rates, and will pay the government three per cent. interest on the actual cost of the eastern section as rental for its use after seven years. The government can use the eastern section for the operation of the intercolonial trains on terms to be fixed by the supreme court of Canada, and the Canadian Northern or any other western railway can use the same road as an eastern outlet, also on terms to be arranged, if it so desires. Instead of the North-West having winter connection with eastern Canada and the Atlantic ports over the lines of only one company, as at present, it will certainly have two, and may have four or more companies competing for its traffic without a cent of additional cost to the country.

The western section from the St. Lawrence to the Pacific will be built and owned by the company. By the introduction of such a company as the Grand Trunk into such a vast and fertile area as the North-West, not only are we assured of a single additional line across the Territories but also of branch lines to all points whose business will justify competition.

The government aids the company in the construction of the western section by guaranteeing interest on the bonds for three quarters of the cost, and holds a first mortgage upon the road and rolling stock as security against payment of the interest guaranteed after seven years.

The government pays interest for seven years on the total cost of the eastern section, and three quarters of the cost of the western section. The company provides one quarter of the cost of the western section, the rolling stock for both sections, and agrees to pay interest on the bonds of the western section after seven years. If the company fails to pay its rental or interest the government forecloses its mortgage and takes control of the road and rolling stock from end to end. Under no circumstances can the government—that is the people—lose on this bargain. If the company pays the interest and rental, the country gets a magnificent and well-managed railway, effective competition and consequently good service, and moderate rates at the price of seven years interest on the cost, a matter of fifteen or at the outside twenty million dollars, five to ten million dollars less than the cash bonus alone paid the C. P. R., and—but little more than the cost to the country in lands, cash and bonds of the three hundred miles of the Calgary-Edmonton railway. If the country ever has to pay interest beyond that amount the road passes into the hands of the government at a price one fourth less than the cost of the western division, with the rolling stock thrown in.

It is the strongest evidence of the substantial position to which the North-West has attained in the estimation of the financial world that so favorable an arrangement has been secured. It only became possible after years of careful administrative administration, and after a vigorous immigration policy had brought people and established confidence.

Further development by a mounting transcontinental railway has become an absolute necessity if the present rate of prosperity is to be maintained. The government is pledged by its action through two sessions of parliament to the pushing through of the enterprise. The company has deposited a million pounds in cash as security for its part of the undertaking. The surveys of the western section are nearly completed. Only the mandate of the people is awaited. If the vote on November 3 sustains the government and its policy, the railway is assured. If the government is defeated we have the word of the leader of the party that would thereby be placed in power, that the bargain will be repudiated.

The choice at the polls is between competition and monopoly, between development and stagnation, between conditions as they are and conditions as they were. The count of the ballots is the mandate of the people as to whether Edmonton, the West and the whole of Canada shall go forward or go back.

PREMIER TWEEDIE IN CALGARY

Bulletin Special Dispatch.

Calgary, October 10.—Premier Tweedie, of New Brunswick, is in Calgary, on his way to New Brunswick from a visit to British Columbia.

The Canadian Northwest Homestead Regulations

Any even numbered section of Dominion Lands in Manitoba or the Northwest Territories, excepting 8 and 26, which has not been homesteaded, or reserved to provide wood lots for settlers, or for other purposes, may be homesteaded upon by any person who is the sole head of a family, or any male over 18 years of age to the extent of one quarter section, of 160 acres, more or less.

ENTRY.—Entry may be made upon the district in which the land to be taken is situated, or, if the homesteader desires, he may, on application to the Minister of the Interior, Ottawa, the Commissioner of Immigration, Winnipeg, or the local agent for the district in which the land is situated, receive authority for some one to make entry for him. A fee of $10.00 is charged for a homestead entry.

HOMESTEAD DUTIES.—A settler who has been granted an entry for a homestead is required by the provisions of the Dominion Lands Act and the amendments thereto, to perform the conditions connected therewith, under one of the following plans:

(1) At least six months' residence upon and cultivation of the land in each year during the term of three years.

(2) If the father (or mother, if the father is deceased) of any person who is eligible to make a homestead entry under the provisions of this Act, resides upon a farm in the vicinity of the land entered for by such person as a homestead, the requirements of this Act as to residence prior to obtaining patent, may be satisfied by such person residing with the father or mother.

(3) If a settler has obtained a patent for his homestead, or a certificate for the issue of such patent, commencing in the manner prescribed by this Act, and has obtained entry for a second homestead, the requirements of this Act as to residence prior to obtaining patent may be satisfied by residence upon the first homestead, if the second homestead is in the vicinity of the first homestead.

(4) If the settler has his permanent residence upon the land owned by him in the vicinity of his homestead, the requirements of this Act as to residence may be satisfied by residence upon said land.

The term "vicinity" used above is meant to indicate the same township or an adjoining or cornering township.

A settler who avails himself of the provisions of Clauses 2, 3, or 4, must or substitute 20 head of stock, with buildings for their accommodation, cultivate 30 acres of his homestead, and have besides 80 acres substantially fenced.

The privilege of a second entry is restricted by law to those settlers only who completed the duties upon their first homestead to entitle them to patent on or before the 2nd June, 1889.

Every homesteader who fails to comply with the requirements of the homestead law is liable to have his entry cancelled, and the land may be again thrown open for entry.

Application for patent should be made at the end of three years, before the local agent, sub-agent, or Homestead Inspector. Before making application for patent the settler must give six months' notice in writing to the Commissioner of Dominion Lands, at Ottawa, of his intention to do so.

Information—Newly arrived immigrants will receive at the Immigration Office, in Winnipeg, or at any Dominion Lands Office, in Manitoba or the Northwest Territories, information as to the lands that are open for entry, and from the officers in charge, free of expense, advice and assistance in securing land to suit them. Full information respecting the land, timber, coal and mineral laws, as well as respecting Dominion Lands in the British Columbia, Alberta, Saskatchewan, Manitoba, or to any of the Dominion Lands Agents in Manitoba or the Northwest Territories.

JAMES A. SMART,

Deputy Minister of the Interior.
N.B.—In addition to Free Grant Lands to which the regulations above stated refer, thousands of acres of most desirable lands are available for lease or purchase from railroad and other corporations and private firms in Western Canada.

A THRIVING INDUSTRY

D. R. FRASER & CO'S SAW MILL

The new mill has greatly increased capacity and is turning out large quantities of lumber

One of Edmonton's busiest institutions is D. R. Fraser and Company's. It is situated on the flat below the hill on the east side of the city. It cannot be seen from any part of the city proper, and people may come and go away without being aware of the size and importance of the lumbering operations carried on by this progressive company. The mill and yards consisting of fourteen acres, presents a very busy scene. Huge piles of lumber are everywhere visible, there being not less than three million feet of lumber in the yards at present.

The company have very extensive timber limits from fifty to one hundred miles up the river and consisting principally of spruce. The company keeps a large gang of men in the woods during the winter getting out the timber. During the summer these logs are floated down to the mills at Edmonton where they are converted into lumber. Last winter one and a half million feet of lumber were sawn at the limits and rafted down to the mill during the summer. The company keep sixty men in constant employment and at different times of the year, at drive time for instance, ninety men are employed. The drive alone takes from fifteen to twenty-two men.

The company have greatly enlarged their operations this year and the new mill which has been running all this season has greatly increased the capacity. The engine room is 50 ft by 40 ft. The two large boilers are neatly ricketed in. The Wheelock engine, manufactured by the Goldie & McCulloch Company, of Galt, Ont., and a small Ball engine, by the Front Manufacturing Company, of Galesboro, Ill. The capacity of the engines is 190 horse power.

The sawmill proper is of two storeys, 130 feet by 30 feet.

The machinery is of the William Hamilton Company manufacture of Peterborough, Ont. The mill is provided with a large blower to carry off the shavings.

The planing room, which is 50 feet by 24 feet, is to the west side of the sawmill proper. In the planing mill are three matchers and one surface planer. There are two sticker machines, each having a capacity of from seven to eight thousand feet per day. Through these pass all the flooring, shiplap and wainscoting lumber. The sizing planer is for all the dimension stuff and has a capacity of fifty thousand feet per day. The surface planer is for sheeting, and has a daily capacity of thirty thousand feet.

The capacity of the sawmill is from thirty to fifty thousand feet of lumber per day. During the season the company sawed on an average of six hundred and fifty logs per day. The mill is provided with two hoisting shams which lift as high as six thousand logs from the river to the mills in a day.

The company have recently purchased an electric light dynamo and will immediately install their own lighting plant. Other improvements are now being considered. The mill has been provided with water connections and a hydrant has been installed for fire protection purposes.
